STONESHIELD COMMENCES EXPLORATION AT THE GELDENHOOF GOLD PROJECT, BLACKWATER DISTRICT, BC

May 25th, 2011 – StoneShield Capital Corp. (TSXV:) (“StoneShield” or the “Company”) is pleased to report that work for the 2011 field season has commenced at its Geldenhoof Gold Project (“Geldenhoof”). Geldenhoof lies approximately 4km east of Blackwater gold property where over 4.2 million ounces of gold recently discovered prompted a $550 million buyout of Richfield Ventures Corp. by New Gold Inc.

StoneShield has entered into a service contract with Terracad Geoscience Services Ltd. (“Terracad”) to conduct Phase One exploration at Geldenhoof. Terracad has instructed a prospector and two geologists to conduct a thorough survey and geological mapping at Geldenhoof. A second Terracad crew will also grid and procure approximately 530+ geochemical soil samples from Geldenhoof’s magnetically anomalous regions and surrounding areas. The crew will also collect 40+ stream sediment samples to test for anomalous gold and other metals throughout the entire property. Terracad has also initiated the permitting process for both geophysical IP surveys and a future drill programs to test for gold mineralization at depth.

Company President/CEO Kris Kottmeier commented “StoneShield is excited to be back in the field exploring for gold. Geldenhoof’s close proximity to one of the largest gold discoveries in Canada in recent years has prompted the Company to commence exploration as soon as possible at this highly prospective region of British Columbia.”
